15. On the client-side, hide chat
16. Press the IU or Purdue logo
17. Repeat previous step

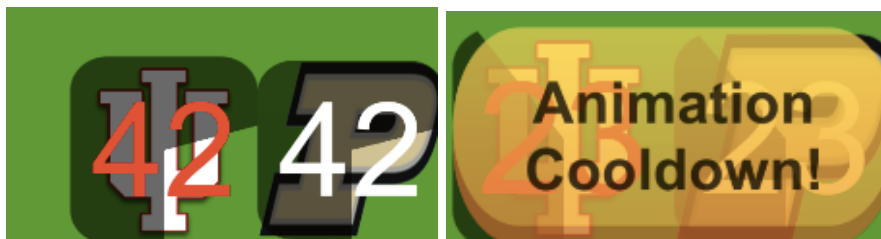

Expected Result: When someone presses the button, everybody will be in a cooldown, but if a user tries to click on the button again, the sign that reminds them of cooldown will show up and fade in a second.

Part 1 & part 2

If one user presses one of the buttons, one of these animations will show up on everybody's client screen. IU logo on the left and Purdue logo on the right.

Part 3 & part 4

After one of the users has pressed the IU or Purdue logo, they will be given a cooldown to ensure that players do not abuse this power. When a player tries to click on the button during a cooldown, they will be given a quick sign on the right picture. After the time has set, they will have the power to do an animation again.
